THE CHURCH OF
JESUS CHRIST
OF LATTER-DAY SAINTS

A new secured website is now available on LDS.org to help stake presidents, bishops, clerks, and executive secretaries with a wide variety of duties and responsibilities. The new site brings together in one place membership and organization information, leadership training resources, reports, announcements, and other Church applications to help leaders fulfill their callings.

Some examples of what leaders can do using the new website:

- Access the Church directory of organizations and leaders (CDOL)
- Receive official communications from Church headquarters
- Complete and submit missionary recommendations
- Review confidential reports, unit statistics, and key indicators
- View segments from worldwide leadership training meetings
- Review and update the stake or ward organization information

Leaders can use the new website at the meetinghouse, at home, and at other locations during times that are convenient for them. As the site helps reduce time spent on administrative work, it is hoped that leaders will have additional time for family activities and ministering to members. Leaders can access the new website at new.lds.org/leader.

This notice is being distributed in English only in the United States and Canada. If leaders need it in other languages, they may contact the member of the Presidency of the Seventy who supervises the area. Area leaders can forward requests to Church headquarters (1-801-240-2933). 11710
