

This list includes all of the standard positions in a fully-staffed ward or stake. Standard organizations, positions, and position sort order are defined by the Church to provide continuity around the world. From time to time, there are changes to this list. Generally, the list only includes positions that are referenced in the Handbook.

Many of the standard positions are optional. Leaders should consult the Handbook as they decide which callings to extend. Leaders also have the option of defining additional, custom positions.

Training resources on LDS.org always reference callings by their standard name. Also, putting members in some standard positions will grant access to online resources for their calling that aren't available to the public. Therefore, it is good practice to extend callings for standard positions as much as possible.
